Description

The current owners have transformed a traditional property into a supremely comfortable modern home which is suitable for living all year round. The interior has been updated with smooth rendering of walls, new extended kitchen and bathrooms and a pellet burner as the source of the central heating system. The house has been completely reroofed and the property is fully double glazed apart from the naya which will be completed very soon. The house sits well on its spacious plot, slightly elevated above the 8 x 4m swimming pool and its south facing aspect means that the property captures the sun from morning to evening without interruption. There are two separate off-street parking areas, one in front of the garage on the lower level and the other directly by the naya and kitchen entrances. A spacious covered area is positioned a few metres from the pool and the terrace area is very privat...
