Description

Very large country house close to Las Marinas for renovation There is scope here for those who want to take on a renovation project on a house with huge potential. The plot of 10,000m² is level and is currently totally dedicated to fruit growing as the soil in the area is fabulous. The property is on two levels with the upper level being in good liveable condition although requiring modernisation. On the lower level we find that much of the building has been given over to facilitate the business of looking after the surrounding land. There are in addition to the living spaces, a couple of huge storage/workshop spaces. Overall there are currently six bedrooms, three bathrooms and two kitchens although this property could offer a multitude of restructuring possibilities. Very cheap agricultural water supply.
