Description

The description of this property could run to several pages of script as this is a place that offers so much to potential buyers. The size of this villa is one thing and additionally there are so many individual features that make it really special and worth a visit if you are looking for a grand family home, a place for peace and relaxation during vacations or as a phenomenal rental business (rental licence and rental history available). Briefly an outline of what is on offer here. The house is constructed on the upper slopes of the Montgo, afforded protection by the impressive cliffs behind and having a full panoramic view of the valley below. This is also a very tranquil location, seemingly far away from traffic noise and congestion, yet in reality perfectly placed for short journeys to either Javea or Denia. The villa is constructed on 3 levels, with a huge amount of covered and o...
